PREMISE

In the book of Revelation, there are two people prophesized to come on the world scene in the last days... they are called the Two Witness.

These two are given the liberty to kill with supernatural powers such as fire and biblical plagues. They are like prophesized superheroes that, believe it or not, billions are currently waiting to arrive on the scene.

Most scholars agree that the first witness is Elijah the Prophet with uncertainty as the identity of the second witness.

I have applied a modern female protagonist as the second witness, paring her up with a historical biblical figure, Elijah the Prophet , thus tapping into an anticipated biblical prophecy.

THE PROPHECY OF THE TWO WITNESSES

“And I will appoint my two witnesses, and they will prophesy for 1,260 days, clothed in sackcloth.” They are “the two olive trees” and the two lampstands, and “they stand before the Lord of the earth.” If anyone tries to harm them, fire comes from their mouths and devours their enemies. This is how anyone who wants to harm them must die. They have power to shut up the heavens so that it will not rain during the time they are prophesying; and they have power to turn the waters into blood and to strike the earth with every kind of plague as often as they want.” – Revelation Chapter 11

THEME

The Second Witness explores the collision between human vengeance and divine justice. Rachel begins as a brilliant cyber-warrior driven by raw grief and a thirst for personal retribution after her mother's murder.

As her prophetic gifts emerge—guided by the angel, November—she must learn that true justice transcends the limits of her own anger and skills.

Through fire-and-brimstone miracles, moral reckonings, and ultimate sacrifice, the story asks whether one can wield personal vengeance as a weapon or allow room for divine vengeance, and whether faith in a higher purpose can redeem even the most righteous wrath.

ACT ONE

The Second Witness opens with a dramatic view of ravens encircling Mount Sinai. A fire bolt strikes near the Jordan River and Elijah the Prophet descends to part the waters and bring storm over the city. Ghost, a man with no name, moves through a refugee camp, where he both comforts and manipulates a burned child with candy and bullets. Back in Jerusalem, Rachel and her mother Leah's morning at a candy shop turns to horror when Ghost organizes a bomb on their bus; Rachel miraculously emerges unscathed, shrouded in soot, and Ghost recognizes her as "Shadetree", a Mossad cyber warrior.

Her grandfather Daniel, a retired Mossad agent, interrogates Professor Balaam and a Mossad agent, Abner to learn who's hunting her. Ghost infiltrates a hospital to a sedated Rachel's room, to mark her with a fresh wound across her face and to issue her a deadly promise.

Fleeing to Alaska, Daniel takes Rachel off the grid, and she endures grueling physical and weapons training. During spiritual experience she discovers she can wield fire and see prophetic visions. She expands her supernatural training in the deep forest until she is attack by the Satan on a snow mountaintop. An angel November appears to comfort her and explains her prophetic destiny as one of two witnesses.

Ghost is confronted by the ten investors who fund his wars and tortures Abner on a shipping vessel

By the end of Act 1, Rachel learns of Ghost whereabouts now armed with new powers, new skills, and the same vengeful purpose. She leaves Daniel's isolated refuge and the hunt for Ghost begins.

ACT TWO

Act 2 thrusts Rachel from Alaska into the neon-drenched underworld of Phoenix where she reunites with her best friend Grey and recruits Bishop's elite crew of former tier one operators—Nile, Dom, Bright and Big Step—to pull off a three-fold operation: rescue the abducted Laura, intercept a mysterious “Babylon” cargo bound for Las Vegas, and eliminate Ghost.

After Rachel's team assembles, they move to relax at a rooftop bar. Bishop and Rachel learn more about each other and the crew gambles over darts. They continue with the fun and games as the boys race the girls in powerful sports cars.

Rachel meets November in the desert and he warns her that her mission is not what she was anointed for. She follows her desire line and continues to pursue Ghost to Las Vegas.

After arriving in Las Vegas, Rachel snipes Tamir on a high-rise balcony and Bishop's team extracts Laura in a daring high rise shoot-out.

Rachel executes two goons on the Vegas strip while Bishop and crew try to disarm the nuclear warhead. Rachel enters the lion den to confront Ghost.

Ghost and Rachel dine with war-profiteers then after a series of events, Ghost forces a wounded Rachel to input Iron Dome codes—then she ignites her God-given flame to break free, decimating Ghost's guards in a hall of fire, ultimately rejoining her crew aboard the jet as it lifts off over a devastated Vegas skyline, her faith—and their fragile trust—now the only thing keeping them alive.

Rachel is broken, wounded, and defeated. Grey challenges her to overcome, after weighing the decision, Rachel surrenders her will and embraces her role as prophet and witness of the Most High.

ACT THREE

Act 3 opens in Jerusalem as Rachel and Bishop's team unloads from the cargo jet into Joint Command's grip. During a general's briefing, Rachel and the crew learn that Israel defense systems are compromised and Ghost is planning a major assault.

Rachel declares to Mossad that she isn't 'The Shadetree' anymore and leaves Joint Command. She mounts a white dirt bike then races through the desert to Mt. Sinai, where she pairs up with Elijah the Prophet to form 'The Two Witnesses'. After Rachel details their attack plan on Ghost, Elijah leads her up the mountain to the burning bush.

Rachel disables the final Trojan-horse warhead with a locust swarm and night-vision sharpshooting, then races through missile-raked streets of Jerusalem. Elijah hunts Ghost through a maze of underground tunnels until they reach the final showdown of The Two Witnesses versus the Antichrist.

After intense fighting, Ghost mortally wounds Elijah. Rachel and Ghost have a hand to hand combat then he fatally wounds Rachel before fleeing. Bishop and the crew flee Jerusalem and leave for Petra.

As Ghost seizes the Temple Mount to unleash God's judgment, a divine fog whisks the slain prophets away,

3 days later a resurrected Rachel arrives at Petra to the surprise of Bishop's crew and the remnant.

The final image is Jesus Christ returning on a white horse at the Eastern Gate, vengeance fulfilled and the third woe loosed upon the world. Rachel's theme is fulfilled...."Vengeance is the Lord's"

MARKET PERSPECTIVE

the second witness

Female-Driven Protagonist

Rachel “Shadetree” is the central hero—complex, powerful, and evolving from revenge-seeker to biblical prophet... with superpowers.

Mythic/High-Concept World

Blends biblical prophecy (Mount Sinai, Elijah) with modern action (Vegas, Jerusalem) and supernatural powers (flame-anointing, locust swarms).

Built-In Intellectual Property

Leverages the globally recognized “Two Witnesses” from Revelation 11:3— 1.15 B Christians already familiar, plus cross-over genre fans.

Proven Box-Office Appeal

Faith-based epics (Noah, Book of Eli, Hacksaw Ridge, Passion of Christ) + female-led action (Wonder Woman, Barbie) = strong precedent for combined market success.

Broad Demographic Reach

Appeals to 18–49 action/thriller fans and 25–65 faith-affiliated audiences simultaneously.

the second witness

Franchise & Sequel Potential

Open ending with cosmic stakes (resurrection, return of Christ) sets up clear arcs for prequel/origin stories and further apocalyptic installments.

Digital Engagement

50 K+ YouTube videos, ~1 B total views on “Two Witnesses” content; ready-made social/SEO lift and influencer partnerships.

Global & Ancillary Upside

Strong streaming prospects, graphic-novel tie-ins, study guides, merch potential in faith and action-figure markets.

Diversity & Inclusion

International settings, multicultural cast (Middle Eastern lead, various ethnic groups represented ), female buddy-dynamic with Grey.

Visual Spectacle & VFX-Driven Sequences

Parting rivers, desert firestorms, high-speed chases, locust swarms—ideal for IMAX and premium formats.
